What

Know the Score is a world-class leadership programme that harnesses the exceptional expertise of the symphony orchestra to enable business leaders to fine-tune their performance.

Delegates sit amongst the renowned Royal Philharmonic Orchestra and see first-hand the secrets of consistently brilliant performance. Moving Performance facilitates the use of this powerful metaphor to provide a platform for strategic thinking about the delegates' own performances and those of their organisations. The dynamic, multi-sensory learning created within a live orchestral experience is powerful, effective and long-lasting.

The mechanisms of high performance are placed centre-stage for scrutiny: unifying vision; building trust amidst diversity; how control, quality and consistency support virtuosic brilliance. The learning is targeted, the application transformative.

Know the Score is the first leadership programme to harness the exceptional expertise of the symphony orchestra for learning in business performance.

We address the following areas:

- Cultivating passion and aligning ambition in your organisation
- Building community among a highly diverse and multi-skilled group of people
- Connecting your organisation to the highest point of leverage
- Delivering immediate change through listening and collaborative communication
- Creating an environment of proactive contribution
